4. What city and country are you located?

Currently the team is located in Urbana, IL for prototyping. We plan to begin a pilot program in Baltimore, MD once we secure funding. Baltimore was chosen because of its favorable solar policy, large number of flat roof homes, good geographic location, and manageable size.

5. Do you have a MVP yet or Beta? If not, when are you planning to launch? (2000)

We currently have and are testing our MVP, a tiered solar panel mounting system used to make urban and limited space solar installations economically viable. We are looking for funding to test our minimum viable service, a solar leasing program designed for urban and low income homeowners.
